TO: Participants on WRCC-48

SUBJECT: Travel, lodging, and preregistration for annual meeting of WRCC-48 and other coordinated alfalfa quality meetings.

In the past months we have been planning the coordination of the meeting of our committee with the National Alfalfa Hay Quality Conference (NAHQ) and the National Infrared Reflectance Project on Forages (NIR). This is a special opportunity to assemble and deal with common national, and regional alfalfa hay quality evaluation systems.

I have enclosed a schedule of the dates and times for the meeting. Our meetings will be conducted on November 7th and 8th. Detailed meeting plans will be prepared by the Executive Committee and subcommittee chairmen. The other committees (NIR and NAHQ) will plan their separate meetings. Many of the meetings will be open for observers. You may wish to stay for open sessions of NAHQ.

Travel information, lodging reservations, and a preregistration form are enclosed. It is important that you make your travel, lodging, and preregistration arrangements in advance. (1) There are rumors of an increase in airline rates October 1. (2) If you are traveling by air, we need to know your time and place of arrival to provide surface transportation from the airport to campus. (3) You can insure on campus lodging by advanced reservations.

Lodging. There is limited on-campus lodging. We encourage you to coordinate lodging reservations with another participant so rooms may be fully occupied.

Travel. The Salt Lake City International Airport serves the Logan, Utah area. The airport is about 85 highway miles from Logan or about 100 minutes driving time. Transwestern airlines operates a commuter service between SLC and Logan. When you are traveling Frontier and Western airlines, the Transwestern airfare between SLC airport and Logan is reduced. Other airlines may also provide these rate reductions.

If you are arriving at the SLC airport at a time that cannot conveniently meet the Transwestern schedule, let us know so we can meet you with surface transportation. We will have transportation available between Logan airport and USU campus.

We hope to see you at the meetings and share your input on the program.

Paul V. Fournesbeck, Chairman WRCC-48

Sincerely yours,
